2005 Awards Banquet, Sunday, October 30

This year's awards banquet was better attended than last year's (68 vs 58 people). 10 Cruising Fleet boats were represented by their skippers and/or crews.

The program began with the annual report by the Fleet Captain. Dave Feavearyear mentioned that in 2005 we lost eight skippers who had been registered the previous year but picked up four new members. We therefore registered only 13 boats in 2005, that's 4 boats fewer than last year.

Feavearyear also reported that we had originally scheduled 24 races but sailed only 18. We had to cancel 4 races for weather related reasons and 2 because of a scheduling conflict.

The annual report was followed by the presentation of the silver and glass-ware trophies and the trophy flags and for first through third places in the spring, mid-distance, and fall series of races. A list of these awards is on the next page.

The Cruising Fleet awards ceremonies concluded with the presentation of the Bent Stanchion Award and the Boat-of-the-Year Award. The Bent Stanchion Award went to the J-22 Wharf Rat, skippered by Peter Gould, who t-boned the J-24, mehitabel, skippered by Clare Fewtrell, and put a fist sized hole into her hull during the start of the third spring series race. The Boat-of-the-Year award was presented—for the second year in a row—to the J-24, Snitch, skippered by David Feavearyear, who accumulated 7 first places (the runner-up had 5 wins).

The awards banquet ended with the installation of the 2006 fleet officers:

Fleet Captain:	Eberhard Alsen
Assistant Fleet Captain:	Austin Dovernoy
Treasurer:	Ted Szymanski
Secretary:	Dave Feavearyear
Web Master:	Mike Newman

2006 Planning Meeting

Sometime in early March, the new fleet officers will hold a planning meeting at the Glenwood Pines to plan the 2006 season. At this meeting, all past, present, and future CLCF skippers are welcome to help us develop the racing calendar, changes to the handicap system, and changes to the Sailing Instructions. The first newsletter of 2006 will alert you all to the date of that meeting and also to the date of the first family event of the new season, the Spring Banquet/Fetch.

Have a pleasant off-season!
