Second Race Day of the Fall Series, Sunday, September 25

The weather gods presented us with an overcast day, with temperatures in the low 70s, and with a stout southerly breeze of 12-18, including gusts of over 25 knots.

Nine PHRF boats showed up for today's two races, two in A-Fleet and seven in B-Fleet, plus three Lightnings. Among the B-Fleet boats we welcomed the Hunter 28 sailed by prospective new member Arne Feyling and his family. The Feylings just bought the boat this spring, and it still has its old name FRANTIC, but it will be renamed FERGUS.

For the first short race, we just went to the X-mark (the Cornell weather station) and back to the start-finish line. For the second race, Fleet Captain David Feavearyear sent us to the Pile Cluster, from there to Maplewood, and then back to the Yacht Club.

The first race was relatively uneventful except for a ragged start that resulted in one boat crossing early and another boat being protested and having to do the 720 degree penalty ballet. During the second race, things got hairy during the downwind run when two boats broached in a big way and a third boat had its spinnaker sheets come loose during the take-down with the sail flying from the masthead like a flag.

The A-Fleet winner in both races was the C&C 30, LORELEI, skippered by Mel Richards, and the B-Fleet winner in both races was the J-24, MEHITABEL, skippered by Clare Fewtrell. Detailed race results and Fall Series Standings are on the next page.
