Fourth Day of the JBY Series, Sunday, August 3

We started the fourth day of the JBY series under cloudy skies and a few drops of rain, but the rain held off and the wind held up as we once again had a nice, fast day of sailing. We decided to sail course "D" again this week, which for a J24 is approximately a 4 nautical mile latitude change (or as I reminded my crew, the little brown house). The wind was brisk, with some strong puffs and a few round ups (and one broach) were recorded. We on "Snitch" saw 7.9 knots on the spinnaker run/reach coming across from the Barge. As we drew near the finish line, the fleet once again condensed and it was again a close race. But in the end it was "Snitch" and crew crossing the line first, followed by "Moondance", "Fantasy" (who passed Invictus near the finish, those dual headsails almost held him off) and "Invictus" to round out the places. Congratulations all for a great day.

The Red Jacket Invite is in! Please forward your reservations to myself, I will be collecting the tally's and forwarding them to Red Jacket. This year we are set for a 6 pm dinner with your choice of Prime rib, Chicken Cordon-Bleau or Broiled Cod, for a price of $15 each. I will need the reservation by Aug 14th so I can forward them to RJYC so they can co-ordinate with their caterer. For the kids and Vegetarians, there is a Pizza shop right near RJ, so we can co-ordinate a pizza run also.

Next week will be another fun day. Our Fleet Captain, Richard, will be back in town to organize the event (he may also be looking for a ride). Skipper's meeting will be at 1:15 pm and the event will start at 2:00 pm.

The JBY Series will continue in two weeks, august 17th.

See you there!
